

EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE (EI)

Today's business world demands that emotional intelligence skills be a vital component of management philosophy. This being shown by the fact that companies are no longer just competing with products anymore, but also with how well they use and manage their people. Why and how? High emotional intelligence helps individuals to communicate better, reduce their anxiety and stress, diffuse conflicts, improve relationships, empathise with others, and effectively overcome life's challenges. PolyNew Training Services focuses on improving these areas by enlightening and building self-awareness, self-regulation, internal motivation, empathy and social skills.
